Most of the developments during this period have been administrative in nature. Sue was briefed for her special clearances and also attended a half-day course on T&A procedures. Our offices were given a safety inspection, which they passed with no problems. Ken's new desk arrived and was installed. Yesterday, an IBM representative came to pack up our borrowed MAG machine. We are into the vacation season here. Charley's leave is from 19 July to 6 August, [redacted] is from 28 July to 6 August, and Sue's is from 2 August to 13 August. [redacted]

For our outside requesters, [redacted] is forwarding to Dr. Cowdrey of the Army's Center for Military History a group of documents flushed out from an Aegis run and authorized for release by various Agency components. The documents relate to Communist propaganda charges about germ warfare during the Korean War. She has also received two collections of documents --13 and 82 items respectively--from the Johnson Library which she will farm out for component review. These are in response to long-standing requests from Dr. Hunt, an Army historian, and Dr. Thompson, an Air Force historian, both of whom are working in projects related to the Vietnam War.
